Claim 3 is ungrammatical and it appears that – includes – was intended for “including”.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1,2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, “the resulting mass” lack(s) proper antecedent basis in the claim(s).

In claim 1, “employing ... or hydrates ... thereof” is indefinite as to which of these is required since they each appear to be recited in the alternative however the general formula would appear to require the lithium compound and at least one of the iron compounds.

In claim 1, line 9, the period at the end of “atmosphere” appears to be missplaced otherwise the claim is rendered indefinite by the period.

In claim 2, “the resulting mass” lack(s) proper antecedent basis in the claim(s).

In claim 2, “employing ... or hydrates ... thereof” is indefinite as to which of these is required since they each appear to be recited in the alternative however the general formula would appear to require the lithium compound and at least one of the iron compounds.

In claim 2, line 12, the period at the end of “atmosphere” appears to be missplaced otherwise the claim is rendered indefinite by the period.

In claims 1,2, "said product from said sintering is exposed to atmosphere" is awkward and indefinite as to what is considered to be "atmosphere".

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Barker '033.

Barker suggests the use of Li_3PO_4 and $\text{Fe}_3(\text{PO}_4)_2$ as starting materials which are mixed, milled and heated, ie. sintered, to form the instantly claimed LiFePO_4 . See cols. 4,5,6,7,12, example 1. The product obtained from the heating is cooled to room temperature which appears to meet the instantly claimed "setting ... to atmosphere" step. Col. 7, first paragraph teaches that the heating occurs under non-oxidizing conditions such as inert gas or vacuum which suggests the instantly claimed sintering atmosphere having an oxygen concentration of 1012 ppm or less. A vacuum would contain no oxygen and non-oxidizing conditions suggests that there is to be no oxygen present.

The subject matter as a whole would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have selected the overlapping portion of the range disclosed by the reference because overlapping ranges have been held to be a prima facie case of obviousness, In re Malagari, 182 USPQ 549.

Art Unit: 1754

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-6 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-6 of copending Application No. 09/956514 in view of Barker '033. SN '514 teaches the instantly claimed process but differs in that the sintering atmosphere containing less than 1012 ppm oxygen is not stated. Barker suggests same as explained in the rejection above and same would have been obvious to combine with SN '514 because each is drawn to an identical process.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection.
